This is the sign which guides anxious students from various sections of the country to Utica Jr. College. Having entered the gateway of new explorations and opportunities, each student begins a new and different life.

The students are oriented to this new campus life. The day begins with registration in the gymnasium.

Soon, the ordeal of registration is over and the students and faculty members are glad to see the approaching week.

Before classes commence, the old and new students begin to intermingle and stroll over the campus holding hands.

And after summer evermore succeeds
Barren winter, with his wrathful nipping cloud:
So cares and joys abound, as seasons
fleet."

MISS MARCH OF DIMES
Queen for the Year

The March of Dimes drive commences in the month of January. Miss U.J.C. and Miss Homecoming are very active in this drive. They even travel to Tuskegee, Alabama, to participate in the March of Dimes Conference.

"If winter comes, can Spring be far behind?"

SPRING

"Be she fairer than the day
Or the flowery meads in May"

Each year the president of Utica Junior College proclaims the first day of May as May Day. The day begins with an assembly in the gymnasium. Each class competes for points in three categories, namely, talent, wit bowl, and athletics. The best students are chosen from each class to participate in the three categories. The class which gets the highest points is considered the winner. Then its representative is crowned Miss May Day.

Many high school girls and boys from various schools are invited to the high school day program. These students are entertained by a play and a variety show. Many walk over the spacious campus and greet other students. While some are looking at the buildings, others stop and pose for a snapshot.

"As a cure for worrying, work is better than whiskey."

Edison

The high school boys work one day per month. Many of them help keep the campus beautiful and clean. They rake up the leaves, pick up paper, plant shrubbery, and sometimes water the lawn.

The custodian sees that the corridors, the classrooms, the lounges, and the lavatories are clean.

High school girls who are enrolled in home economics learn to cook, prepare well-balanced meals, and table setting. The girls are supervised carefully by their instructors.

Work

no sleep till morn, when youth and pleasure

After the students have completed their class work, they begin to chat with other students.

Some engage in a volleyball game; others in gymnastics.

A Message From The President

My dear Friends:

I should like to congratulate the Annual Staff and its advisors for the 1962-63 UTICANITE, the school year-book.

This is a pictorial review of the opportunities that are provided for the continuous growth and development of the young men and women who are enrolled here. It expresses the rapid growth of the Junior College and the new opportunities that this rapid growth has brought to both the faculty and students.

Utica Junior College is a subject-matter-centered college. The major emphasis is on classroom teaching. Students who come from this academic program are equipped to transfer after the two-year program to the senior colleges of the state without difficulty.

The Terminal Program has attracted great interest since it was started in 1960. This program will enable young men and women who are interested in transferring to senior college to take a variety of terminal trades, the completion of which will enable them to go directly into gainful employment. We consider this a very important extension in our school offerings. With these expanding opportunities, plus a group of dedicated and well-trained faculty members, Utica Junior College is rapidly moving to a position where it can be a most positive influence in the lives of both the students and the community.

We hope that everyone who will read this annual will get an insight into the college that has meant so much, to so many, so long, in the Utica Junior College district.

Very truly yours,

Walter Washington

ARTHUR H. KINNARD, B.A.
Dean of Instruction

Dear Uticanite:

Congratulations are in order for those who have labored so hard to make such a publication as this possible. Without the cooperation of the entire Utica Junior College Family, the publication of the UTICANITE would not have been possible. It affords me a great deal of pleasure to say well done to those who were directly responsible for this publication.

The story which is told in this UTICANITE is a new one. It reflects deeds that have been done throughout the school year of 1962-63 at Utica Junior College.

Again, congratulations for a job well done.

Sincerely yours,
Arthur H. Kinnard, Jr.

ACTIVITIES

..... TEACHERS

..... STUDENT TEACHERS

..... STUDENTS

Miss Dozier is discussing the "Ingredients of Success" in her Orientation Class.

In Mr. Gooden's class the students receive instruction and experiment in the work of ceramics.

Mr. Caston tells his students that to play a musical instrument one must be able to read the note, think the note, the pitch, and the time simultaneously with his physical apparatus. If this is done, you will learn both mentally and physically.

Miss Lois Anne Savage (Miss Jackson State College) tries to motivate the students by asking questions, concerning the cases and classes of pronouns.

Mr. Carter teaches a class in American Literature.

Plot analysis and characterization of the short story are stressed highly in Mrs. Carter's English II class.

Mr. Banford, a student teacher, is discussing the essential of water to life in his Biology class.

PERIODIC CHART OF THE ELEMENTS

A well understanding of this periodic chart of the elements helps in the blast off.

A lecture on the phylum Protozoa, one cell animals, covers the general morphology, physiology and reproduction of the phylum.

The students in Mr. Anthony's college zoology class listen to a lecture on the anatomy of the grasshopper.

college chemistry . . . If it is true it can be found experimentally.

If you cannot express it in Physical Science, knowledge is of a meager and unsatisfactory kind.

Although the "Holy Night" scene is noticeable, Mr. Smith discusses the subtraction of polynomials in his Algebra I class.

Geometry students observe as their teacher, Mr. George Barnes, explains some basic concepts, concerning perpendicular and parallel lines.

Mrs. Washington stresses correct cutting and sewing procedures in her clothing construction classes.

The class listens to a lecture by Mrs. Brown on the five functions of a family.

These students are getting good practice under keen supervision from their instructor, Mr. Richardson.

Mrs. Howard, the instructor, is showing the students how to give a massage along with a facial.

These students are learning how to type and how to operate the duplicating and photo copy machines.

Denotation and connotation of words are helpful in compositions and theme writing.

Miss Washington lectures to her students in American History on the Civil War before she takes them to Vicksburg, Mississippi.

This course in educational psychology emphasizes the laws and theories of learning, teaching, and evaluative procedures, such as the ones demonstrated.

Since America has assumed the leading role in world affairs, a knowledge of World History, past and present, becomes of increasing significance to Americans.

Mr. Caston tells his students this: "After selecting the project you plan to build, you will determine what materials you need in the way of lumber, hardware, and finishing supplies. This should be put down in an organized form."

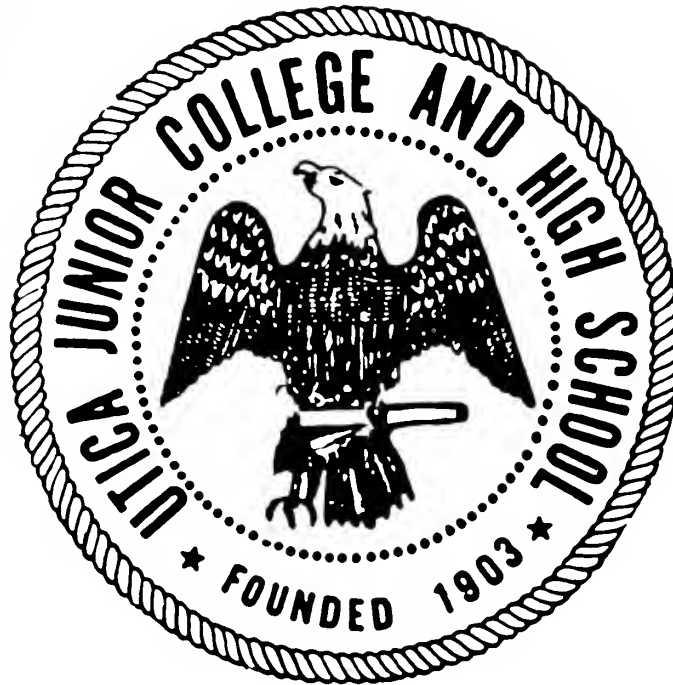

Mrs. Smith sees that her college students in physical education keep their organs functioning in a healthy state.

Shelves and shelves of books to provide sources of information for high school and junior college students.

The Spirit of U.J.C.

The spirit of Utica can be found in the color of its pep rallies, the excitement of its football games, the pride of its cheerleaders and marching band, and the attitude of its teams. The teams participate in various sports and activities around the year.

The 1962 Football Season

It all started September 1, 1962, when Coach Lattimore arrived on campus to start football workouts. The coaching staff was called in for a meeting. At that time the blueprints for the 1962 Bulldog team was constructed. By September 5, 1962, the campus was buzzing with the enthusiasm of forty-five football players from all over the state and nearby states.

On September 28, 1962, Piney Woods School came to Utica to give the Bulldogs their first test. The Bulldogs proved more than equal to the test by overpowering Piney Woods 67-7. Daniel Payne from Birmingham, Alabama, was the next victim of the Bulldogs' power as they fell 47-13. All eyes then turned to Coahoma Junior College, the defending Conference champions. The Coahoma Tigers refused to be beaten, and slipped past the UJC men 13-6. Determined to get back on the winning trail, the Bulldogs outscored Mary Holmes 21-18; Harris 19-11, and Prentiss 19-0. While getting ready for the big Homecoming game with Okolona, the Bulldogs kept an eye on the Coahoma-Mary Holmes game, because a Mary Holmes and Utica victory would throw the race into a three-way-tie with Coahoma, Mary Holmes and Utica all boasting 4-1 conference records. Mary Holmes stopped Coahoma 12-9 as Utica out played Okolona 22-0. Thus, giving the Utica's men a share of the championship.

1963 Conference Champions

Persistence, perseverance, and performance! These were the watch words for the Utica Junior College cagers at the beginning of the season. With the guide lines established, the Bulldogs began to move through their schedule. To sharpen their teeth, the Bulldogs engaged in practice games with two of our neighboring colleges. At these practice games they took some and dropped some. The Bulldogs emerged with a "razor sharp" edge, and were ready to take on the S.I.G. Conference.

Persistence, perseverance, and performance! For five games they trounced, triumphed, and turned back all conference on-comers. After one loss the Bulldogs returned to their original form. Throughout the remainder of the schedule, they never lost again. A 15-1 conference record gave Utica Basketball Team the Conference Visitation Championship.

A wonderful basketball season was culminated with still another honor. The head basketball coach, Mr. Rod-erick Paige, was voted the "Coach of the Year" by his conference colleagues.

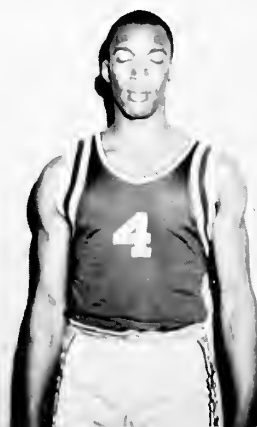

A great season is anticipated for next year, because the team will lose only three players. They were good players, but we expect to recuperate.

1962-1963 BULLDOGETTES

High hopes for the championship rest with the returning basketball girl stars. Such stars as Victoria Moreland, Stella Edwards, and Christine Woods are good athletes. The acquisition of new-talented personnel further strengthens the squad. Enthusiasm was displayed continuously by the Bulldogettes.

They failed to materialize into championship caliber. The Bulldogettes ended the season with a 4-9 record. Well, girls, there is always next year—better luck then.
